

Todaro Calzones & Strombolis

What's the difference between these two golden beauties? Basically, it's three things, the shape, the cheeses and the texture. The Calzone is a half moon shape, with a dome, starts with both mozzarella & ricotta cheeses inside and is more loosely packed with your extra toppings. The Stromboli or Boli as they are also known, has more of a torpedo shape, without any sort of dome, starts with only mozzarella cheese and is overall denser than its calzone sister.
